

In line with the Principality of Monaco's long-standing commitment to sustainable development, Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) is an integral part of the Grimaldi Forum Monaco (GFM). Since its creation in 2000, it has positioned itself as a committed player in its homeland and in the events industry, with action as its sole driving force, in the service of a sustainable society for future generations.

As early as 2008, the GFM was one of the first congress centers to obtain ISO 14001 certification, an internationally recognised reference in terms of environmental management. In addition, in 2023, ISO 20121 certification will crown the congress and cultural centre's commitment to Corporate Social Responsibility for its events activities.

Customers, business partners, authorities, employees and suppliers, the Grimaldi Forum Monaco's CSR project brings together all its stakeholders with the aim of achieving mutual progress. The project is steered by its 18-member ISO Committee, which represents all the company's departments and is headed by Françoise Rossi, CSR Director, and Maureen Aubert, Environment, Certifications and Legal Officer.

I 25 YEARS OF ENVIRONMENTAL AWARENESS

Since obtaining its first ISO 14001 certification in 2008, the Grimaldi Forum Monaco's energy efficiency has been improved by 40%, by consuming 100% green energy, its recycling rate has been multiplied by 2.5 and its water consumption per visitor has been divided by more than 2. To continue reducing its environmental footprint, the GFM is also integrating the carbon assessment into its corporate strategy. Using tools provided by the Mission pour la Transition Énergétique de Monaco (MTE), GFM develops paths and refines its objectives each year to achieve optimum environmental performance.

As an actor of change, the Grimaldi Forum Monaco is also actively involved in implementing the National Pact for Energy Transition, which it signed in 2018. This initiative by the Prince's Government brings together all the Principality's stakeholders with the aim of reducing its greenhouse gas emissions by 55% compared to 1990 levels by 2030 and becoming carbon neutral by 2050.

AN ECO-DESIGN & ECO-MANAGED BUILDING

A natural and efficient thermal insulation:

A building $\frac{3}{4}$ below sea level, with the remaining $\frac{1}{4}$ using cellular glass insulation, a recyclable material that meets High Environmental Quality criteria.

With 2500 m2 of photovoltaic panels installed on its roof:

GFM is the first solar energy producer in Monaco.

A policy of monitoring and investment and equipment maintenance, based on a high-performance centralized technical management system (CTM) for the building: programming of air conditioning, lighting, water monitoring and overflow management.

Sea water as renewable energy:

Hot and chilled water production, which is essential for the building's air treatment, is provided by heat pumps that draw the calories or frigories necessary to control the temperature and hygrometry of the premises from sea water. The electricity used to operate the pump is therefore not used to produce heat but to transport it. With a high performance factor, this air treatment system actively promotes energy savings while using renewable energy as a raw material.

KEY FOCUS AREAS:

1. CONTROL THE CONSUMPTION OF A 100% RENEWABLE ENERGY.

A lower electricity consumption approach linked to the operation of the site and visitors (CTM with 20,000 control points, use of airlocks equipped with sliding doors on radar to limit losses of treated air, presence detectors, a lighting park equipped with 95% low-consumption bulbs, shading and solar filters in exposed areas, etc.).

2. MANAGE WATER IN AN OPTIMIZED & SUSTAINABLE WAY.

Consumption monitoring and alert system in case of leakage.

3. REDUCE AND RECYCLE ALL OUR WASTE.

- An on-site waste management center for glass, paper, packaging, wood, brown cardboard, waste electrical and electronic equipment, batteries, metals, etc., with signs in several languages, colors and images, placed at all strategic points;
- Specific monitoring of signage tarpaulins and carpets;
- Process of transferring non-reusable event materials to staff.

4. PROMOTE RESPONSIBLE PURCHASING AND INVOLVE STAKEHOLDERS.

- Common consumer products chosen for their eco-label;

- Green purchasing guide for Grimaldi Forum Monaco employees;
- Raise employee awareness of environmental issues (signing of a green charter, regular internal information, green days, digital depollution challenge, quarterly CSR e-news, etc.);
- Ensure compliance with good practices by significant service providers and suppliers, through the signing of an eco-responsibility charter;
- Reduce paper consumption by digitization processes;
- Encourage digital savings and extending the lifespan of IT tools.

5. PROMOTE SUSTAINABLE MOBILITY

- Encourage carpooling and the use of public transport;
- Limit business travel;

6. MAKE OUR GOOD PRACTICES AVAILABLE TO ALL EVENTS:

- Presentation of our spaces in VR360° and design of customer projects in 3D to avoid travel;
- Guidance in eco-design for events;
- Recyclable or reusable event materials (general installation stands and furniture stored on site, recycled signage tarpaulins, recyclable badges and reusable badge holders...);
- Zero plastic, certified wood and paper;
- Local caterers, committed to sustainable, local and seasonal consumption;
- Replacement of plastic bottles with other containers and access to water fountains with recyclable glasses;
- Cleaning companies using eco-labelled products and scrubbers running exclusively on water;
- A consumption report for the event, including energy, water, waste management, internet consumption and audiovisual equipment, is made available to the client;
- Incentive pricing policy for the use of our "green" services.
